MEMBERS' COLUMN

Fellow Rotarians,

There is no doubt that, even though things seem to have calmed down a little, we are still living in a time of emotional stress and uncertainty. I would like to suggest one solution that has been proven to relieve the constant anxiety people experience when they feel a loss of control------GET INVOLVED IN HELPING OTHERS!!

We, in Rotary, have the perfect setting to accomplish this. We have committees composed of members who will work with us to reach a variety of worthwhile goals. Speak to Barney Barnet if you want to help relieve the fears of little children, in hospital waiting rooms by reading to them. See Don Stern or Bill Goldman if you have at least one day in the year to describe your business activities to high-school students so they can better understand various career choices.

Meet with our "New York Rotary 9/11 Adoption/Vacation Committee" on Tuesday, January 22nd at 11a.m., right before our luncheon. We are coordinating with Rotary clubs around the world who are offering vacations and adoptions to rescue workers and victims' families.

Speak with me about other committees. I will be happy to guide you in the "right" direction. You have the power to be the change you want to make in the world. This is the perfect time to activate it.

Yours in Rotary, President Helen

REPORTER OF THE WEEK

Tuesday, January 15, 2002

President Helen Reisler welcomed all members and guests. Scarlett Pildes sang the national anthem, and Bernard Fabricius delivered the invocation. He listed the major developments of the past four months, with thanks for uniting us in Rotary.

While we ate lunch (squid salad, Moroccan chicken, and cheesecake), Helen introduced a special guest, Bill Ryan from the Fire Department. He said he had been too busy working and going to funerals to thank everyone. He expressed gratitude for their gifts.

Helen inducted three new members: Dr. Mark Fromer,

Dr. Bonnie Kellen, and Volker Detering. Our Ambassadorial Scholar Kosuke Takahashi said a few words and brought many banners for members.

President Helen thanked all at the main table for contributing their time. She also thanked Bill De Long, back from Asia, who had people send hundreds of e-mails to Helen.

Our guest speaker was Maureen Casey, former Deputy Commissioner of Policy and Planning at the New York Police Department. Her fascinating talk outlined her work with DNA initiatives for law enforcement and criminal justice. She said DNA technology has enabled police to identify people with such small clues as skin cells on a briefcase and sweat on a collar. DNA also is used to prevent counterfeiting, solve cases including paternity and was even used in a particular divorce case. It establishes a reliable identification and guards against mistaken eyewitness testimony.

The New York state police maintain a statewide database of criminals' DNA. Both Gov. Pataki and former Mayor Giuliani have been very supportive of the database, which is heavily regulated.

DNA also enables identification in disasters and brings closure to victims' families. If was recently used to identify victims of the crash of American Airlines Flight 587 and the World Trade Center attack.

Lillian Coury introduced five visiting Rotarians – from Canada, Russia, Germany, Pennsylvania, and Illinois. David Dingle led us in our welcome song.

Helen closed the meeting and thanked us all for coming. She reminded us that the 9/11 committee was meeting after lunch and is working to send families to Rotarians in other countries.

Rotarian, Maye Musk
